Dear Katrina,

You will need permission from the owner of the property. To find out who this is go to <http://apps.dunedin.govt.nz/WebMaps/RatesMap/> and find the location on the map. Then click on the link that takes you to the rating information database and scroll down to find the owner's name and postal address.

If you have permission from the owner I don't anticipate that you will need anything further for a temporary exhibition, however this will depend on the length of time and whether there is any disruption to neighbours or traffic.

Regards
