I write about your LGOIMA request received 23 June 2024 requesting information about cameras and commercial relationships.

Please find below the answers to your questions raised.

How many cameras with automatic number plate recognition capability have been installed on roads, streets, intersections, traffic lights, light posts, and other Council property with Dunedin City Council's approval in the last five years?

The Dunedin City Council (DCC) has no cameras with automatic number plate recognition capability installed on roads, streets, intersections, traffic lights or light posts. Three automatic number plate recognition cameras have been installed in the Great King Street carpark building.

How many cameras with automatic number plate recognition are operating in Dunedin City with the Dunedin City Council's approval?

The three DCC automatic number plate recognition cameras installed in the Great King Street carpark building are operational.

Does the Dunedin City Council own these cameras, lease these cameras, or are they owned by another company?

DCC owns the three automatic number plate recognition cameras installed in the Great King Street carpark building.

For the cameras operating on roads, streets, intersections, traffic lights, light posts, and other Dunedin City Council property which are owned by companies rather than Dunedin City Council, what are the names and NZBN numbers for those companies.

NZTA, Downer and Vivacity cameras operate around areas such as roads, streets, intersections, traffic lights and light posts. We own the equipment on DCC properties. We do not hold the NZBN numbers for the companies listed.

Which third parties does Dunedin City Council provide data, images, or footage collected with cameras operating on roads, streets, intersections, traffic lights, light posts, and other Dunedin City Council property?

Requests for cctv footage are managed on a case-by-case basis by the DCC Privacy Officers. Live footage from the street camera network is streamed to the Dunedin Central Police Station. Traffic cameras can be accessed by some Wellington Transport Operations Centre staff at NZTA.
