4. Responsibilities

The DCC and property owner responsibilities are outlined in the brochure 'Allanton wastewater scheme', available at www.dunedin.govt.nz.

5. Connection costs and process

Following receipt of this application, the DCC will provide a quote to install a pump, pump chamber, pump controller and pump discharge line<sup>1</sup>. The property owner must accept this quote in writing for installation of the connection to proceed.

The property owner then submits this quote for installation with their Building Consent application. They must also pay the capital contribution fee (currently $8,887<sup>2</sup>). Before installation of the connection commences, the DCC will invoice the property owner for the costs of the quoted installation. Once payment has been made and the Building Consent is granted, the DCC will install the connection when requested to do so by the customer.

6. Authorisation

I am the property owner / I have been authorised to act on behalf of the property owners to make this application for a connection to the Allanton wastewater pressure system.
